Our Dream Wedding Venue

“One of the most critical points on a bride’s planning check list, is the selection of the perfect wedding venue. And when that’s been booked, it’s the responsibility of the establishment to make sure every detail is quietly taken care of, for a flawless wedding”. This is the view of Janus Horn, general manager of Sica’s Guest House, one of Durban’s most gracious wedding settings.

The Sica’s functions team assists the bridal couple with planning every step of their wedding. Impeccable attention to detail and the flexibility to accommodate every request, sets Sica’s aside when it comes to organising a special event. Not only does Sica’s boast a highly professional team - from efficient cleaning staff to dedicated duty managers - but the ambiance of this establishment is highlighted by tasteful décor and impeccable gardens.

Sica’s Guest House is a charming, old world sanctuary, situated just far enough away from the city’s hustle and bustle, but with all the necessary modern conveniences for a spectacular function. This 1886 colonial style guesthouse, which is graciously nestled on three acres of Durban’s prestigious Berea, has its own quaint chapel - but for those wishing to say their vows outside, a gazebo is easily organised.

The Sica’s function rooms are expertly transformed to meet the design dreams of the bride and each detail, every step of the way, is personally and professionally attended to. And when it comes to the wedding feast, the Sica’s chefs and catering team don their aprons to create gastronomic delights to suit every taste bud. Fine points - like crisp linen, quality cutlery, class crockery, ample ice and pristine service - are all part of the package.

For those weddings where guests travel from afar, there is plenty of luxurious accommodation, set in tranquil surroundings, which means no one has to drive. In fact, Sica’s is a haven for bridal couples who choose to make a whole weekend of the extravaganza.

For those sporty guests, Sica’s has an inviting swimming pool and a floodlit tennis court. Another convenience is internet connectivity in each room - there is no need to go in search of an internet café.

Parking at Sica’s is secure and there is plenty of it, so guests don’t have to worry about the safety of their vehicles.

Sica’s, which is attentively run by owners, Jan, Sica and Janus Horn, is one of Durban’s most charming establishments for every special occasion. Many couples return year after year, to celebrate their wedding anniversary. So, whether it’s a silver anniversary, or gold, bring on the champagne!

After each Sica’s wedding, it’s appropriate to say “this marriage was made in heaven”. But even if there is no special event, Sica’s is the perfect place to hide away from it all for a few days and be gently pampered.

Oh and it’s absolutely true, life is all in the packaging and Sica’s is well worth its gracious wrapping.
